Purpose of the Folder:

The University of Minnesota is deeply committed to the physical and emotional well being of our students. We can all play a part by noticing worrisome behavior and responding with compassion. By sharing your concerns and intervening early you can help maintain a healthy and safe campus. This folder is designed to help you recognize indicators of student distress and how to respond and refer the student appropriately. Worry less about saying the “right thing” than saying something.

Suggestions for Practice and Application

RECOGNIZE

Key questions to guide your conversation
• Which areas of the student’s life are most impacted?
• Are the indicators of distress in multiple areas?
• What seems to be the biggest area of concern?

ROLE

Clear about personal boundaries and professional limitations; focus on behaviors and actions that can be of most use
• Attend/Connect/Listen to the student or your colleague
• Consult about the situation generate options for follow up
• Liaise with professional staff as needed

RESPOND

The content of what you say will vary depending on the situation. However, there are some general guidelines you can follow to frame your response:
Affirm and validate
• Reinforce help seeking behavior and requests for assistance

Empathize
• Refrain from judgments about what “should” happen or what the student “should” do
• Recognize that students are often scared and intimidated to talk about their concerns
• Be willing to talk about the emotions that you’re hearing and observing

Clarify
• To ensure accurate understanding
• To build on past successes as you assist in identifying next steps

RESOURCES

• Clarify locations and hours prior to meeting with student if possible
• Does this warrant urgent consultation?

Notes:
WHAT TO DO:
A few tips when helping a student in distress
✔️ If possible, gather information before you intervene. Knowing where to refer a depressed or anxious student ahead of time might save time and increase the student’s confidence in you.
✔️ Ensure privacy when you talk and choose a time when you are not preoccupied or rushed. If you are concerned about your safety or about anyone’s behavior being misinterpreted, ask you supervisor or a trusted colleague to join you and explain why to the student.
✔️ Be honest and direct; it’s often best to talk in very concrete terms about what’s happening.
✔️ Communicate hope by reminding the student that there are always options, and things tend to look different with time.
✔️ Respect the student’s value system and culture.
✔️ Follow up in a reasonable length of time.
✔️ Recognize that the student may not immediately welcome or act upon your interventions, but you may plant a seed that blossoms later and it is never wrong to communicate kindness and concern.
✔️ Consult with other professionals about your concerns by contacting any of the offices listed on right.

Follow the chart to determine first steps in helping a student in distress:

Is the student in imminent danger to self or others? Does the student need immediate assistance?

YES
Student is imminently dangerous and threatening harm to self or others.

CALL Crisis Line 218.281.TALK (8255) or call 911

NOT SURE
Student has shown several indicators of distress and my interaction left me worried. I am very concerned.

Refer student to Care Team and/or Counseling Services

NO
I am not concerned that the student is in imminent danger but I am concerned that they could benefit from additional support and resources.

Refer student to appropriate campus resource
